

Study Social Movements in Mexico with the Mexico Solidarity Network

Fall, Spring, and Summer programs

Grassroots Experiential Learning

Learn from and live with Mexico's most important and vibrant social movements, including Indigenous groups, Urban housing co-ops, Students, Migrant workers, Campesinos, and Human Rights defenders.

Academic Content

Focused on the context, theory, and practice of community organizing with important lessons for US students and activists.

Earn University Credit

- Fall and Spring semester - 16 weeks / 16 credits
- Summer semester - 4 weeks / 6 credits
- Participatory Action Research programs
4-14 weeks (Fall, Spring, & Summer)

Semester includes an additional 2-week re-entry program on community organizing in Chicago.

Accredited by Universidad Autónoma Metropolitana, Hampshire College, and SUNY system.

Recognized by another 100+ US institutions.

Special workshops include:

intercultural communication, gender dynamics, migration dynamics, pirate radio, herbal medicine, massage therapy, traditional weaving, mural painting, boot-making, and traditional cooking.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

mexicosolidarity.org/studyabroad

773.583.7728 studyabroad@mexicosolidarity.org